

PEARL Product Specifications

WHERE IS PEARL INSTALLED?

PEARL gets installed under the window in upper story bedrooms; it is installed in the wall similar to a medicine cabinet.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO INSTALL PEARL?

On average, it will take the technician 1.5 hours to install a PEARL. This is based on an installation that does not require outlets, wires, or cables to be re-routed.

HOW MUCH DOES THE CUSTOMER EXPECT TO PAY FOR INSTALLATION?

PEARL Protected advises customers that it will likely run between $100 and $300 per unit for installation, based on the number of units being installed, and the complexity of the installation.

WHAT KIND OF TOOLS ARE NEEDED FOR INSTALLATION?

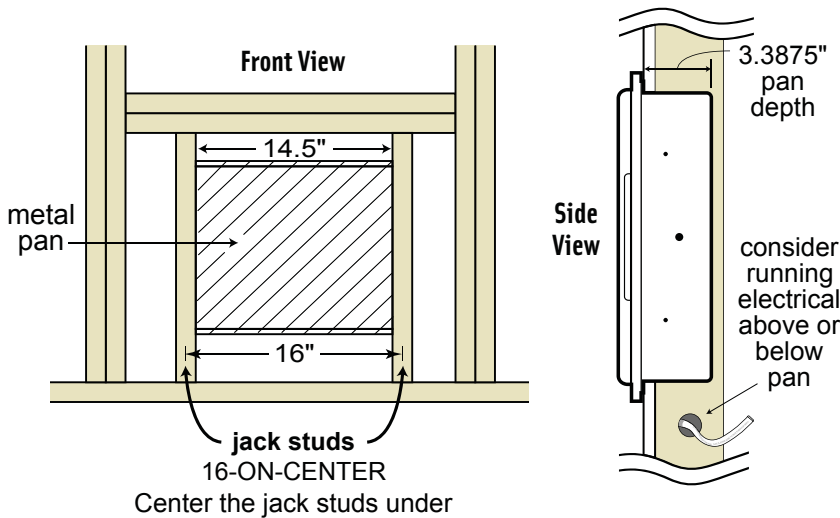

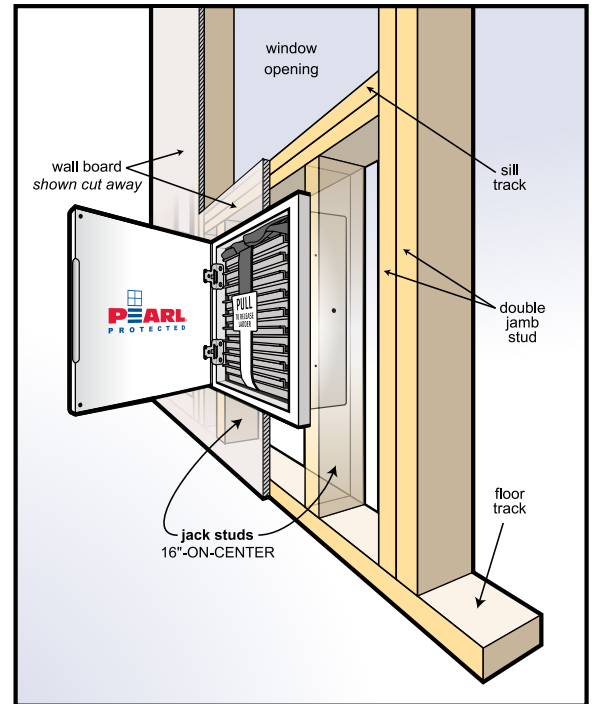

There are no special tools required for installation. The tools needed are all very common and should already be on the technicians truck.

WHAT KIND OF HARDWARE IS NEEDED FOR INSTALLATION?

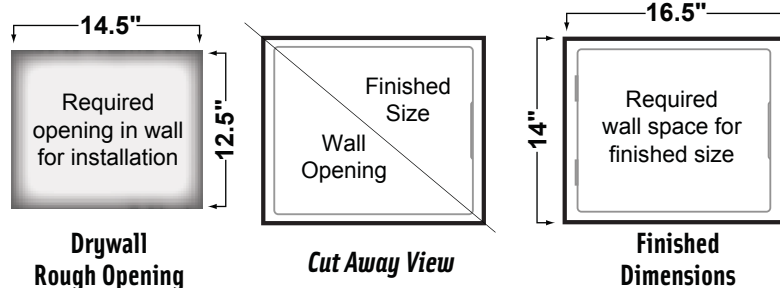

All of the necessary hardware, 6 lag bolts, are included with the PEARL unit. It is suggested that a 2 x 4 or 2 x 6 is kept in the truck to add or replace jack studs if necessary.

Additional installation time may be required if:

- Studs or support members must be moved
- Outlets, wires, or cables need to be re-routed
- We need to cut into moulding, trim, or woodwork
- Other unforeseen obstacles appear

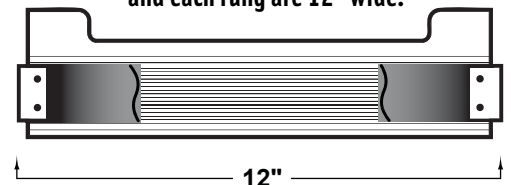

Center the jack studs under the window, 16-on-center.

Best wall Location

- Does the window open easily?
- Can you fit through the window?
- Is there an electrical outlet that will need to be moved?
- Ideally, PEARL fits in a 14" vertical space between the base of the window trim and the top of the floor molding.

The outside width of the deployed ladder and each rung are 12" wide.

The ladder is 24 feet long and able to accommodate up to a three story home. The distance from the first rung to the pan is 40 inches.
